Hi! 👋 I'm

Ever Barón

11 years creating digital products as
UI/UX Designer & FrontEnd Developer

ABOUT ME

I'm Ever, a 35 year old product designer based in Barcelona.

I'm passionate about the mountains, cycling, climbing, splitboarding, technology, and art. I draw inspiration from everything around me.

My design journey began on paper, but I quickly moved into the digital world, using pixels and code to bring ideas to life.

Over time, I realized that great design isn't just about aesthetics, it's about solving real needs.

That insight led me to dive deeper into usability, accessibility, and empathy as the foundation of my work.

Today, I specialize in product design, turning ideas into solutions that connect with users and create real value for businesses.

Let me share a bit more about my career journey.
